Body of Stevenson Being Flown Home

LONDON (AP) — In death, Adlai Ewing Stevenson started the journey home today — back to Washington where the highest gift of the American people eluded him, then on to Illinois for burial in the state that elected him governor.

Accompanying the body of the fallen statesman were Vice President Hubert Humphrey, Stevenson's three sons and a party of U.S. officials.

The eloquent spokesman for U.S. policy as ambassador to the United Nations since 1961 and twice the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for president, Stevenson collapsed and died outside the U.S. Embassy Wednesday. The embassy said he had suffered a heart attack. He was 65.

The coffin was removed from a catafalque at the U.S. Embassy for the trip to the airport, where President Johnson's personal plane was waiting.

Humphrey, Stevenson's sons and the U.S. delegation had arrived in Johnson's plane three hours earlier.

President Johnson sent Humphrey in the presidential plane to take the body to Washington tonight. There were tentative plans for a service in the National Cathedral Friday.

Among those accompanying Humphrey were Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz, Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and Stevenson's sons, Adlai III, John Fell and Borden, and the wives of Adlai III and John.

After the Washington service, the body will be flown to Springfield, Ill., to lie in state. It was there Stevenson served as governor of Illinois from 1948 until 1952.

On Sunday, the body will be taken to Bloomington, Ill., where the statesman grew up. Funeral services and burial in the family plot will take place Monday.

Leaders across the world mourned the loss of the urbane intellectual whose moving eloquence and sparkling wit made him a noted speaker and formidable debater.

President Johnson ordered flags flown at half staff until after the funeral of his longtime friend and political colleague.

"America has lost its most eloquent spirit, its finest voice. The world of freedom and human dignity has lost its most articulate champion," Johnson said.

Johnson urged Americans to "weep for one who was a friend and guide to all mankind."

"His sudden death was a blow to us all," said British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, in a message to Johnson. He recalled that Stevenson had visited him on Saturday and "I was impressed once again by his wit, his wisdom and his friendship for this country."

Sorrow spread through the U.N. headquarters in New York, where Stevenson had been the (Continued on Page 3)

New U.S. Envoy To U.N. Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Politicians speculated today that President Johnson may want to choose an American with world standing to succeed Adlai E. Stevenson as chief of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations.

Administration officials said that so far no consideration has been given to naming a successor for Stevenson, who died Wednesday in London. But it was expected that Johnson might wish to fill the position soon after the ambassador's funeral because of the pressure of coming events at the United Nations.

Francis T. P. Plimpton, No. 2 man in the U.S. delegation, will take over Stevenson's duties temporarily until a successor is named.

Johnson's comparison Wednesday of Stevenson with Lincoln in his accomplishments was interpreted as indicating the President looks upon the U.N. assignment as one of the most important in shaping world opinion.

Although the field of possible successors is wide, the number of Americans who might rank with Stevenson in world recognition is not too large.

For this reason there was some speculation that the President might want Secretary of State Dean Rusk to transfer to the U.N. post.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball is another who has had wide contact with top ranking diplomats and heads of other states, as has ambassador at large Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr.

Those who thought the President would be likely to pick a knowledgeable diplomat who was a close personal friend mentioned the name of Thomas C. Mann, Latin-American expert who is undersecretary of state for economic affairs.

Many members of Congress doubt that Johnson will choose one of his close unofficial advisers for the U.N. job. Attorneys Abe Fortas, Clark Clifford and Dean Acheson already have turned down official positions within the administration. Acheson is a former secretary of state.

Neither do the legislators believe that Johnson would want to lose McGeorge Bundy, his special assistant for national security affairs, from the White House inner circle.

Harriman Talks With Red Chief

MOSCOW (AP) — U.S. roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman talked with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin for three hours today in the Kremlin.

There was no immediate announcement on the subject of the talks but Viet Nam was believed to have been discussed.

Harriman said later, through an American Embassy spokesman, that he would not comment on his talk with Kosygin. He added that "we discussed my personal plans in the Soviet Union during the coming week."

The embassy also refused to say what else came up.

ALL THE WAY — Merchants offered old-fashioned prices on new merchandise today during the annual "Sidewalk Sale." Some clerks even went "all the way" and were decked out in old-fashioned garb. To take the "old-fashioned" theme a bit further, these clerks at King's Department Store made their own dresses and bonnets patterned after those that were fashionable in grandma's heyday.

Sidewalk Talk

There's no doubt about it! Today's fourth annual Circleville "Sidewalk Sale" is a rousing success. Shoppers flocked to the downtown area and the weather was near perfect, just as the weatherman predicted.

Temperatures ranged in the low 80s and a blue sky prevailed above. A light shower came early today, but the rainclouds had moved on by the time sidewalk activity got under way.

As it is at Pumpkin Show time, street level visiting seems to be one of the sidewalk sales highlights. For many, it offers an opportunity to chat with friends they have not seen for a long time.

Not all the downtown visitors were there just for sightseeing and confab. Bundles carried by many indicated they were bona fide shoppers looking for bargains.

Police Chief Robert Temple was on duty early today. He seemed more than pleased with the excellent turnout, despite some anticipated

Pupil-Spanking Law Is Signed in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Otto Kerner signed into law Wednesday a bill permitting public school teachers to spank unruly pupils.

The governor said the measure had the support of various teacher organizations, administrators and parents.

In fact, traffic became rather complicated at Court and Franklin Sts., where City Service Department personnel were attempting to paint crosswalks. Somebody apparently got their signals mixed.

Making a big hit with shoppers were "The Unknowns," a local group of young musicians. Another young group, "The Elegantes," undoubtedly will do the same when they appear later today.

War Casualty Data Altered

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — No further casualty reports will be announced in connection with individual engagements in the Vietnamese war, U.S. authorities announced today.

Casualties will be announced as weekly totals, but there will be no identification by units, the announcement said.

Correspondents were also asked to withhold voluntarily any such figures they find out on their own, and not to identify units in battle or to disclose troop movements.

No penalties for violators of the new press code were announced, and a spokesman said formal censorship was not planned.

The announcement said the new rules resulted from an agreement between the American and Vietnamese governments.

179,000-Yankee Force Is Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's military chiefs have recommended unanimously that the strength of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam be boosted to 179,000 men by the end of the year, it was learned today.

This would be more than 100,000 above the 75,000 U.S. force now scheduled to be in South Viet Nam.

This recommendation by the Joint Chiefs of Staff will be considered by top U.S. officials in the light of what Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara determines during his week-long inspection visit to Viet Nam. McNamara left Wednesday night.

Sources told The Associated Press the joint chiefs would include the remainder of the 1st Infantry Division in the new projections for a buildup to meet growing Communist strength. One brigade of that division landed in Viet Nam this week after traveling from its home base at Ft. Riley, Kan.

A buildup as big as 179,000 men could well bring at least a limited mobilization of reservists and National Guardsmen to replace regular troops drawn into the growing conflict in Viet Nam.

The armed services, it was disclosed, are starting to gear up for such a possible muster of guardsmen and reservists.

They have submitted to defense officials tentative estimates totaling more than 200,000 citizen servicemen.

The breakdown:

About 120,000 guardsmen and reservists, including six infantry brigades. Three of these brigades, sources said, probably would be the 157th of Massachusetts, the 187th of Pennsylvania and the 205th of Minnesota.

Marines — The 4th Marine

Division and its air wing, a total of more than 44,000 reservists.

Navy — About 40,000 reservists who would be summoned as individuals rather than with units.

Air Force — Mostly air transport squadrons manned by some 20,000 reservists and guardsmen.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong guerrillas killed 20 Americans and at least 20 South Vietnamese troops today in an hour-long barrage attack on a government command post 35 miles north of Saigon, eyewitnesses reported.

The guerrillas laid down their barrage with 81mm mortars and 57mm recoilless rifles on the Vietnamese unit engaged in a road clearing operation along Route 13 in an area controlled by the Viet Cong, informants at the scene said.

There was no ground assault, and all contact apparently was broken off after the barrage ended.

A relief force was lifted into the area by helicopter several hours after the pre-dawn battle.

It found the bodies of the Vietnamese soldiers and the two Americans scattered around the command post at the edge of the tiny village of Bau Bang.

One wounded American also was found, and there were at least 20 wounded, witnesses said.

A Vietnamese navy landing craft was reported sunk by a mine Wednesday about 6 miles east of Saigon. A spokesman said a recovery operation had been started by government forces.

It also was reported that a (Continued on Page Two)

Data May Unveil Mystery Planet

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists received from Mariner 4 today what they said were just the kind of Mars picture signals they hoped for.

Late today or early Friday they plan to make public what should be the first close-up photograph of the unknown planet's surface. It could indicate whether Mars harbors life, solving a mystery that has intrigued man for ages.

Mariner 4 flew past Mars Wednesday night and its signals hinted at trouble in the camera's tape recorder.

But this morning, transmitting from beyond Mars en route to an orbit around the sun, the windmill-shaped 575-pound spacecraft began relaying the first of a hoped-for score of photos.

Signals came in line by line at the rate of one line every 2 1/2 minutes. In all, it required 8 hours, 35 minutes, for all 200 lines of the picture to be received.

Jubilant scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which built and controlled Mariner, said "the raw data is exactly what we expected."

CLEVELAND (AP) — Patrolman Raymond J. Uzell, 31, has been sentenced to one-to-10 years in the Ohio Penitentiary for soliciting and accepting a bribe.

Uzell pleaded guilty to the charge Wednesday and was sentenced by Judge Frank D. Celebrezze.

The former policeman took the sentence calmly, but Judge Celebrezze had tears in his eyes when he told Uzell, "You have held up the Cleveland Police Department to ridicule and disrespect." Uzell broke into tears outside the Criminal Courts Building.

Uzell was suspended from the force after he was arrested on the bribery charge April 16. He was arrested for allegedly taking $100 in marked money as a payoff in a traffic accident case.

Rites Slated Friday for Stevenson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military, religious and state honors were planned today with the funeral services for U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson.

As the presidential jet plane bearing Stevenson's body was flying across the Atlantic today, the White House announced plans for tributes to Stevenson, including memorial services at Washington's National Cathedral Friday, with President Johnson attending.

The cathedral services were scheduled for 11 a.m. EDT. A close friend of Stevenson, Judge Carl McGowan of the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, will deliver the eulogy. Officiating will be Dr. Richard Hall Graebel, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Springfield, Ill., of which Stevenson was a member.

The funeral plans, arranged by the family with government officials cooperating, called for Stevenson's body to lie in repose in the Illinois Capitol rotunda from 10 a.m. Saturday until 10 a.m. Sunday.

Burial will be Monday in Bloomington, Ill., Stevenson's hometown, with a small private family service at the interment.

In the heaviest raid reported, 15 U.S. Air Force planes again attacked the Son La army barracks 125 miles west northwest of Hanoi. A spokesman said 36 tons of bombs were dropped and pilots said there was "a high degree of damage — the place has been reduced to rubble."

In the 24-hour period ending today, the U. S. Air Force reported flying 102 strikes over South Viet Nam and claimed killing an estimated 65 Viet Cong guerrillas.

Public To See

Two hours after the start of signals 35 lines had been received, and one expert said a definite pattern was showing.

The photo program called for Mariner to take up to 21 pictures as it passed within 5,600 miles of Mars, store them on tape, then play them back starting today.

After analyzing this morning's transmissions, experts said they are optimistic about receiving as many as 20 photos.

The pictures were planned to be 100 times better than those from earth telescopes, showing objects as small as 1 1/2 miles across, and perhaps indicating whether life exists on the planet most like earth.

The fly-by climaxed a 228-day, 325-million-mile curving voyage from earth. The spacecraft took Wednesday and today was about 134 million straight-line miles distant.

Because of the distance from earth, the 575-pound spacecraft could not transmit its pictures the instant it took them. They had to be recorded on tape and then the information relayed slowly, to avoid garbling, beyond Mariner had passed beyond Mars and into interplanetary space.

Mariner keeps the pictures on tape just as videotape for television shows is stored. A timer starts radioing the data to earth as a stream of digits received at tracking stations at Goldstone, Calif., Johannesburg, South Africa and Woomera, Australia, the data is relayed here by radio.

The photos are expected to show objects as small as a mile and a half in diameter, scientists said. The camera was triggered into operation during a 4,000-mile sweep from north to south down Mars' summertime landscape. Mars' seasons match earth's.

As Mariner disappeared around the white-capped south polar region its radio signal waned and faded — giving what scientists said was valuable data on the Martian atmosphere, proving it could bend radio waves.

Scientists said this proved Mars has some atmosphere — something long believed by earthbound experts. A detailed analysis of data will be necessary before it can be determined how thick the atmosphere is, JPL spokesmen said.

Mariner 4 was launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., last Nov. 28. It has traveled 325 miles in its 228-day curving voyage to the photographic rendezvous.

Stock Prices

Still Climb

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rally continued early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

Gains of fractions to a point or so prevailed among key stocks.

Airlines, utilities, nonferrous metals, aerospace issues, oils, rails, building materials, chemicals, electronics and farm implements were on the upside.

Motors were ragged, following a mixed report on latest new-car sales. Rubbers were unchanged to lower.

The steady buying was linked to the first wave of favorable second-quarter earnings reports and expectations of more to come.

The trouble over Viet Nam seemed to be in the background. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.2 at 326.3 with industrials up 2.1, rails up .2 and utilities up .7.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.23 at 886.46.

Conferees Reach Accord On Medicare Provision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees, settling one big difference over the new Social Security - health care measure, have agreed on a 90-day hospitalization plan for the elderly.

The agreement came Wednesday at the first conference session to iron out variations of bills passed to set up the $7.5 billion program.

The basic health plan of the House version provided 60 days hospitalization for each spell of illness, with the patient paying the first $40 of the hospital bill.

The Senate changed this to provide unlimited hospitalization with the patient paying $10 a day toward the cost after the first 60 days. It retained the House plan for the first 60 days.

The conferees drew a compromise which keeps the first 60 days with a $40 deductible and adds 30 days with the $10-a-day payment.

This, sponsors of the bill said, will cover over 95 per cent of hospital costs for elderly persons. The basic health plan, tied in with Social Security, will be available to the 19 million persons 65 or older.

The conferees accepted two other provisions in the Senate bill dealing with nursing home care after a hospital stay and the number of authorized home health visits.

The first provision allows 100 days of nursing home care with the patient paying $5 of the cost of each day after 20. The House would have provided as few as 20 nursing home days.

The other Senate provision accepted by the conference authorizes 175 home health visits, compared with 100 in the House version. But the conference kept a House requirement that these visits be authorized only after a three-day hospital stay.

(Continued from Page One) Report's indicate some of the dandy shopping bargains also made a hit. So did the many give-away items and samples.

One merchant, more than pleased with the Sidewalk Sales commented favorably on the size of the crowd today. "They even brought money to spend," he added as an after thought.

Bargains ranged from lemonade to a lavender knit necktie to a storm door that reportedly was sold for 97 cents.

Hardworking clerks probably appreciated the pleasantly cool breeze that was blowing far more than the shoppers.

One of the bigger problems faced by storeowners was keeping their sidewalk stock replenished as the early morning crowd cleared the tables of bargains.

Plenty of sidewalk activity was on the docket for the afternoon and evening hours, including entertainment. The Davis Demons Drum Corps was slated for an afternoon appearance and the "Two-by-Fours" Barbershop Quartet from Ashville in the evening.

Conferees Reach Accord On Medicare Provision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees, settling one big difference over the new Social Security - health care measure, have agreed on a 90-day hospitalization plan for the elderly.

The agreement came Wednesday at the first conference session to iron out variations of bills passed to set up the $7.5 billion program.

The basic health plan of the House version provided 60 days hospitalization for each spell of illness, with the patient paying the first $40 of the hospital bill.

The Senate changed this to provide unlimited hospitalization with the patient paying $10 a day toward the cost after the first 60 days. It retained the House plan for the first 60 days.

The conferees drew a compromise which keeps the first 60 days with a $40 deductible and adds 30 days with the $10-a-day payment.

This, sponsors of the bill said, will cover over 95 per cent of hospital costs for elderly persons. The basic health plan, tied in with Social Security, will be available to the 19 million persons 65 or older.

The conferees accepted two other provisions in the Senate bill dealing with nursing home care after a hospital stay and the number of authorized home health visits.

The first provision allows 100 days of nursing home care with the patient paying $5 of the cost of each day after 20. The House would have provided as few as 20 nursing home days.

The other Senate provision accepted by the conference authorizes 175 home health visits, compared with 100 in the House version. But the conference kept a House requirement that these visits be authorized only after a three-day hospital stay.

For Restored Veterans

Presidential Aide Studies Joint Local-V A Project Here

A representative from the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped was in Circleville yesterday for a detailed study of a joint rehabilitation program being conducted by the Chillicothe Veterans Hospital and a local Citizens committee.

Meeting with members of the local panel was Mrs. Janet House. The purpose of her visit was to learn more about the mentally restored and their employment problems.

The information Miss House gains in this and other areas throughout the country will be included in a booklet on community activities that increase employment opportunities for the mentally restored. She plans to return to Washington, D. C. today.

During the early part of yesterday's visit here, Miss House, talked with members of the Circleville Committee on Employment of Restored Veterans citizens group by the Exit Unit at the Chillicothe VA Hospital in cooperation with the Ohio Elks Assn.

THE JOINT project is a pilot program designed to explore and expedite the placement of restored veterans into suitable positions of gainful employment. Its goal is to find a place for veterans previously believed to be lifetime patients.

The Circleville group is chaired by Dr. David Goldschmidt, a past president of the Ohio Elks Assn. Members of its committee are Miss Pauline Reese, county welfare director; James Shea, county veterans service officer; and Mrs. E. R. Bennett, executive secretary of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

One of the functions of this committee is to help locate jobs for the restored veterans and assist them in adjusting to community life.

Miss House was accompanied here by Dr. Kennon F. McCormick, unit coordinator at the Chillicothe VA Hospital and staff member Tom Pagniano who directs the specific job placement function. Pagniano lives at

There was talk of a memorial service in the General Assembly hall.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who defeated Stevenson for the presidency in 1952 and 1956, said his death struck "a tragic note for all Americans." Former President Harry S. Truman said he was "shocked and saddened."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said that "in the graceful eloquence of his public statements he had no peers and very few equals."

Correspondent Eric Sevareid of the Columbia Broadcasting System said Stevenson told him Monday night he wanted to resign from his U.N. post. In a broadcast from London, Sevareid said Stevenson told him, "for a while I would just like to sit in the shade with a glass of wine in my hands and watch people dance."

The ambassador said he planned to return to law practice in New York and Chicago but he wasn't sure how or when to tell Johnson he wanted to quit, Sevareid said.

Stevenson had stopped off in London en route home from a Geneva meeting of the U.N. Economic and Social Council. His stay attracted little attention, but there were indications that he was conferring on a possible new Western initiative on disarmament linked to the surprise Soviet agreement to resume arms talks in Geneva.

On Monday night, he appeared in a brief television interview to defend U.S. policy in Viet Nam. Just before he died he taped a radio interview at the embassy in which he said he had been under pressure from many sources to break with Johnson over Viet Nam. He said he had refused and again defended U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Red-Lined Dime, Quarter Get Nod

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's settled now. Future half dollars will look like the present ones, but will contain less silver. Dimes and quarters will have no silver and their copper cores will show in a red line around the rim.

The House made this decision Wednesday after some wild switching of votes. Its bill, passed 225 to 151, matches basic provisions of legislation already passed by the Senate. A Senate-House Conference will handle minor differences in the bills, but the essentials will remain.

The fireworks came on an amendment to keep some silver in the dime and quarter.

First the House followed the lead of a hard-driving bloc of representatives — many from silver producing states — and overrode the recommendation of its Banking Committee by voting to keep silver in the half dollar.

This was in accordance with President Johnson's recommendation and Senate action. The committee, however, had voted to make the 50-cent piece a sandwich of pure copper faced with cupro-nickel, like the quarter and dime.

The first effort to make quarters and dimes part silver — but reduce the content from 90 to 40 per cent as in the half dollar — failed on a 106-92 standing vote. Then a teller vote was demanded, and when the members walked down the aisle to be counted, it brought a reversal, 122 to 112. Later, on a roll call, the House switched again, 218 to 187, for the copper-nickel smaller coins.

The legislation contains several provisions designed to discourage hoarding, collecting and speculation. Individual mint marks are eliminated and dates continued indefinitely, among other things.

The House bill contains a specific five-year prohibition against minting of silver dollars.

Dr. Sam Still Wondering Whether He Is Free Man

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Samuel H. (Dr. Sam) Sheppard marks one year of freedom Friday still waiting to find out if he must go back to prison.

It may be weeks — even months — before he finds out.

Even if imprisoned again, he could be free in 90 days.

Sheppard, the central figure in one of the nation's most-publicized murder cases, finds little consolation in that.

"If they think I'm guilty, why not retry me? They know I'm innocent," he said recently.

Wednesday his hopes for remaining free received a new setback.

An appellate court at Cincinnati held, for the second time, that Sheppard's release was in error. Sheppard said he would appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Sheppard's attorneys said they would ask the 6th U. S. District Court of Appeals for a stay of its ruling ordering the balding, still-handsome former osteopath back behind bars.

If the stay is granted, Sheppard will remain free until the U. S. Supreme Court rules on a motion to review the case. If the stay is denied, Sheppard will go back to prison.

One year ago today he was ordered freed on grounds that he did not receive a fair trial when he was convicted in 1954 of second-degree murder in the death of his first wife. He was sentenced to life imprisonment.

On July 16, Sheppard walked out of Ohio Penitentiary here after serving four days less than nine years.

In the year since release, Dr. Sam has remarried, tried to lead a quiet life—and waited.

"He is going to stay free," vows his lawyer, dapper F. Lee Bailey of Boston.

State Parole authorities say Sheppard, if imprisoned again, will be eligible for parole in 90 days. Eleven months had been knocked off the mandatory 10-year requirement when he was released. Sheppard got the reduction for teaching school in prison.

But Sheppard, 42, says he doesn't want parole. He says he is willing to risk the death penalty by being retried under the original first-degree murder indictment.

The widely followed murder case began July 4, 1954, when Sheppard's pregnant wife, Marilyn, was beaten to death at their Bay Village home in suburban Cleveland. Sheppard told police a "bushy-haired" intruder slugged him and when he recovered he found his wife slain.

The state indicted him for first-degree murder. Six months later, a jury convicted him of second-degree murder.

On July 15, 1964, Federal Judge Carl A. Weinman of Dayton freed Sheppard. He called Dr. Sam's trial "a mockery of justice" and said "If ever there was a trial by newspaper, this is a perfect example."

The next day Sheppard stepped out of the penitentiary and signed a $10,000 bond pending further legal action.

Dr. McCormick, in describing the VA research project that was established in 1956, said the program has been examined and accepted by numerous other federal and state institutions across the nation.

Dr. McCormick noted that 83 per cent of the patients involved in the program have been examined and accepted by numerous other federal and state institutions across the nation.

Dr. McCormick noted that 83 per cent of the patients involved in the program have been placed in gainful employment, and 70 per cent have encountered no social problems in their community. He said only about 10 per cent of those placed on jobs have returned to the hospital by year's end for further rehabilitation.

ALSO taking part in yesterday's discussion, conducted at the Chamber of Commerce office, were Dr. Goldschmidt, Jack Clifton, Mrs. Bennett, Earl Palm, Dale DeLong, Charles Wellman, Eldred Parsons, Richard Penn and Paul Smallwood.

A portion of the meeting was opened to a question and answer period. Miss House, Dr. McCormick and Pagniano utilized specific patient cases and other events in making their replies.

Dr. McCormick commended the Circleville Citizens Committee for its effective assistance and sincere interest in the program. Dr. Goldschmidt described his group's operation as a pioneer effort — one that is expected to serve as a model for the organization of similar committees in other Ohio communities.

Clifton, Chamber president, termed the program as a most commendable and worthwhile one that offers unlimited service toward a good cause. He said the Circleville Chamber will attempt to help in every way possible.

Cleaning Up Detergents

Cleanliness, it has been much reiterated, is next to godliness. This generation, using billions of pounds of detergents annually to wash clothes and dishes, has seen cleanliness become synonymous with pollution.

Those detergents have been entering streams and lakes in frightening amounts, because they were not broken down in sewage treatment processes. In some cities, residents have found washing detergents foaming out of faucets which presumably carried purified water.

There is happy news about this pollution. The nation's detergent manufacturers have switched from hard to soft detergents. The hard detergents should all be off store shelves by the end of the year. And the industry says the housewife will not be able to tell the difference in the action of the two.

The new soft detergents will break down in sewage treatment processes, instead of moving into waterways unchanged. The industry spent $100 million to solve this problem.

Not that all is well yet. Where there is no treatment of sewage, or only partial treatment, the detergents still will seep through the ground and into water. And the detergents still have a heavy composition of phosphates. Phosphate is a good fertilizer. What could be wrong with dumping fertilizer into water?

Plenty. The phosphates spur great growth of plants in the water, cutting down the amount of free oxygen. Fish depend on this oxygen. And it gives the water a regenerating power, the power to purify or neutralize sewage. There is still detergent trouble with a capital T.

However, there already are proposed solutions to these problems. Development of the soft detergents offers hope that the industry will solve the remaining detergent problems.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

Would you please recommend a diet and give other suggestions for hiatus hernia.

Mrs. L. N., Indiana

Dear Mrs. N: For readers who are not acquainted with this condition, hiatus hernia is a weakening of the wall of the esophagus. The weakened site is where the esophagus passes through the diaphragm and joins up with the stomach.

Often, hiatus hernia exists in overweight middle-aged people without producing any symptoms.

When the condition is suspected because of vague abdominal symptoms, it usually can be diagnosed by X-ray study of the esophagus and the stomach.

The one important suggestion that is usually made by physicians for hiatus hernia is to eat small quantities of food at more frequent intervals. Overloading at mealtime can cause distressing symptoms.

Overweight should be controlled by rigid diet. Fried fatty foods should be avoided.

Lying down shortly after meals prevents a bloated feeling. Sleeping with the head elevated, propped up on pillows, is comforting.

Not all cases of hiatus hernia are alike. Some are complicated by other minor problems. The regime for each individual must be varied to suit his particular needs.

For 11 years I have had Boeck's Sarcoid. At one time it was thought that I had tuberculosis. I am well and feel that some of your readers would also be encouraged by some knowledge about this disease.

Mrs. A.P.R., Illinois

Dear Mrs. R: Sarcoid disease is still a very mystifying one. Until very recently the disease was confused with tuberculosis. This idea has almost been completely abandoned.

There are many forms of sarcoid disease, each described and named for the physicians who first described them.

Boeck's sarcoid is only one form of the disease.

The diagnosis is usually made by the progress of the condition, X-ray findings and a microscopic study of tissue.

The fact that you are feeling well is an excellent sign that

Race in New York

By John Chamberlain

In their endorsement of John Lindsay for Mayor of New York, the Liberal Party big-wigs made it plain that they were taking him because the retiring Mayor Bob Wagner was no longer available to them.

Getting Liberal approval is, of course, a great feather in John Lindsay's cap. The private polls indicate that he is out in front, and the votes that will come to him under the Liberal line could be very substantial. But there are some nagging second thoughts connected with the Liberal endorsement that are bound to occur to any objective analyst. For, if the Liberals are accepting John Lindsay as a substitute for Bob Wagner, who was always good to them when it came to passing out patronage, what becomes of the whole dramatic argument that New York, as a "city in crisis," desperately needs a man on a whit, charger to rescue it from the parlous condition to which Wagner, with Liberal Party support, has allegedly brought it?

This is a subtle question, but Lindsay will have opponents who should be able to make good use of it when the autumn campaign is really under way. The Conservative Party, which could have a balance-of-power position if certain things break right for it, has already indicated its strategy. It is to plaster Lindsay with the stigma of being the "Left of the Left" candidate, with no connections with orthodox Republicanism of any sort. Bill Buckley, the Conservatives' own candidate, will be represented as the rightful Republican who deserves the 800,000 votes that went for Goldwater in New York City last November.

The Conservative strategy would be neither here nor there if the liberally oriented New York newspapers and the radio and TV stations could suffocate it by giving it the silent treatment. But the Democrats, who are the majority party in New York City, would be extremely shortsighted if they were to permit the Conservative strategy to go unnoticed. Having been robbed by the Liberal Party defection of the opportunity of making hay on the liberal side of the fence, the orthodox Democrats can do no better than to encourage a big orthodox Republican swing to Bill Buckley and the Conservatives. If enough votes could be taken away from Lindsay by such a swing, it would compensate the orthodox Democrats for the loss of Liberal Party support for their own candidate, be he Scravane or whoever. And the Democrats could thereby keep their hold on City Hall.

All of this should mean that the Democrats will give Bill Buckley publicity despite the efforts of the forces of liberalism to blanket him in silence. Not that Buckley, an ingenious man, is likely to be silenced in any case. He has already succeeded in forcing the foremost Lindsay newspaper in New York City to print an uncommonly abject apology for misquoting him on the subject of the police in Selma, Alabama.

The Democratic Party and Conservative Party strategies can be neatly dovetailed in New York City without doing violence to the principles of either group. All the Democrats have to do is to pound home the contention that if the Liberal Party finds Lindsay an acceptable substitute for Bob Wagner, then Bob Wagner's indubitably Democratic performance in City Hall cannot have been so bad. The Democrats can then go on to say that Scravane, or whoever, actually makes a better heir to the Wagner tradition than a Republican who is ashamed to run under the Republican label.

As for the Conservatives, they can approach the matter from an angle that accepts the contention that New York is a "city in crisis." They can pound it home that, if Lindsay is "just another Wagner" to his Liberal Party endorsers, then he is currently not the Sir Galahad that "fusion" people have been waiting for all these years. And, of course, the Conservative candidate can expect to pick up the votes of policemen's families for his staunch insistence that no policeman can confidently do his duty if he is to have a second-guessing review board poised to question police acts. That the police are mostly Wagner men at heart can be accepted as the cream of a very subtle jest.

For, if the Liberals are accepting John Lindsay as a substitute for Bob Wagner, who was always good to them when it came to passing out patronage, what becomes of the whole dramatic argument that New York, as a "city in crisis," desperately needs a man on a white charger to rescue it from the parous condition to which Wagner, with Liberal Party support, has allegedly brought it?

This is a subtle question, but Lindsay will have opponents who should be able to make good use of it when the autumn campaign is really under way. The Conservative Party, which could have a balance-of-power position if certain things break right for it, has already indicated its strategy. It is to plaster Lindsay with the stigma of being the "Left of the Left" candidate, with no connections with orthodox Republicanism of any sort. Bill Buckley, the Conservatives' own candidate, will be represented as the rightful Republican who deserves the 800,000 votes that went for Goldwater in New York City last November.

The Conservative strategy would be neither here nor there if the liberally oriented New York newspapers and the radio and TV stations could suffocate it by giving it the silent treatment. But the Democrats, who are the majority party in New York City, would be extremely shortsighted if they were to permit the Conservative strategy to go unnoticed. Having been robbed by the Liberal Party defection of the opportunity of making hay on the liberal side of the fence, the orthodox Democrats can do no better than to encourage a big orthodox Republican swing to Bill Buckley and the Conservatives. If enough votes could be taken away from Lindsay by such a swing, it would compensate the orthodox Democrats for the loss of Liberal Party support for their own candidate, he he Screvane or whoever, actually makes a better heir to the Wagner tradition than a Republican who is ashamed to run under the Republican label.

As for the Conservatives, they can approach the matter from an angle that accepts the contention that New York is a "city in crisis." They can pound it home that, if Lindsay is "just another Wagner" to his Liberal Party endorsers, then he is currently not the Sir Galahad that "fusion" people have been waiting for all these years. And, of course, the Conservative candidate can expect to pick up the votes of policemen's families for his staunch insistence that no policeman can confidently do his duty if he is to have a second-guessing review board poised to question police acts. That the police are mostly Wagner men at heart can be accepted as the cream of a very subtle jest.

The Democratic Party and Conservative Party strategies can be neatly dovetailed in New York City without doing vio-

Christy, Chamberlin Vows Repeated in EUB Church

MRS. JOHN CHAMBERLIN

The Laurelville EUB Church was the setting 3:30 p. m. June 20 for the wedding of Miss Janet Christy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett G. Christy, Grove City, and Mr. John Chamberlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Chamberlin of Philadelphia, Pa.

The Rev. E. M. Shelton, Lucasville, performed the double ring ceremony, before an altar flanked on each side with pedestal bouquets of white lilies, gladioli, pompons, carnations and seven-branch candelabra. The Rev. and Mrs. Roy Gearhart, Laurelville, presented a half-hour program of pre-nuptial music, both traditional and sacred, with Rev. Gearhart singing and Mrs. Gearhart as organist. The Lord's Prayer was sung immediately following the marriage vows.

Escorted by her father the bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and peau de soie fashioned with an empire waist fastened to a self bow at the back and sleeves extending to points over the wrists. Appliques of lace reembroidered with seed pearls and crystal beads adorned the scalloped neckline of the bodice and the A line skirt and train. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was held by a crown of crystal and pearls and she carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and lily of the valley centered with a white orchid.

Miss Carla Packard, Cleveland, a college friend, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sue Morain, Mt. Vernon, and Miss Sharon Smith, Lancaster, also college friends. Miss Sharon Snyder, Circleville, a second cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Miss Packard wore a floor length dress of turquoise crepe with matching lace covering the bodice. The empire waist held the sheath skirt and Watteau panel in the back with a self bow. Her headpiece was a Dior bow of turquoise satin with matching net and she carried a

Guests Attend Monrovia GC Meet, Workshop

Mrs. Bernard Savy entertained members of the Monrovia Garden Club for a meeting and workshop. Guests present were Mrs. Bertha Keyes, Mrs. Lewis Seymour and Miss Linda Long.

The group toured the garden and a covered dish dinner was served on the patio. Mrs. Charles A. Fleming, president, opened the meeting and Mrs. Harry J. Smith gave the devotionals closing with prayer.

Roll call was answered by twelve members naming a song with a state in the title. The secretary's report was read by Mrs. Fleming and Mrs. Lloyd Neff, treasurer, gave the financial report.

It was announced that the year book placed 4th in the district. The State Convention will be held August 18 and 19, in Delaware.

Mrs. Fleming thanked all who helped to make the picnic at the Children's home a success. The group also voted to set the last Saturday evening in June as the date for the picnic each year. Mrs. Fleming asked all members to participate in the flower Show at the County Fair.

Mrs. Herman Porter, chairman of the new year book committee, asked the members for suggestions. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Savy gave a talk and demonstration on flower arranging.

The next meeting, to be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Day, will feature the annual family night and picnic.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

It's Not Normal!

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my 17-year-old son. He is going steady with a 24-year-old woman. Roger looks like he's 21 or 22, and has always been big for his age. I am very much against this match and told him so. Do not tell me to have a talk with the woman because I already have and it didn't do me one bit of good. She says they are "in love." Roger has one more year of high school left and she says she is willing to wait for him to graduate before they get married. Have you ever heard of anything so ridiculous?

She works and gives Roger an "allowance." Don't you think this woman ought to be ashamed of herself for taking advantage of a kid? I think they are both sick in the head. I say if these two get married, in no time he will be introducing her as his mother. What can be done? He won't listen to me. ROGER'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Knowing nothing of the mental and emotional maturity of either your son or this woman, I can't say whether it's a "ridiculous" match or not. A normal 24-year-old woman wouldn't look twice at a 17-year-old boy. And vice versa. Obviously, it's too late for you to assert the kind of parental influence necessary to break up this romance. Roger needs understanding and lots of it. Who knows, they might live happily ever after.

DEAR ABBY: Please answer this while I am sane and able to understand your reply. I accepted an engagement ring last Christmas, but I am not sure I want to get married just yet. I haven't set a date and I am getting so much pressure from Nick that I can't think straight. I have never given Nick any reason to doubt me, but I get the third degree about every minute I spend away from him. Right after I got my ring, Nick started to act like he owned me. Yesterday I had lunch with a very dear girl friend I had not seen in years. We had a lot to talk about and I didn't think that kind of talk would interest Nick, so I didn't ask him to be with us. Well, Nick said I can't ever see her again as he knows that when two girls get together they are just looking for eligible males. Do you think he will ever get over this jealousy after we are married? Marriage is a big step and I don't want to rush into something I could regret later on. What should I do?

SECOND THOUGHTS: DEAR SECOND: Nothing! Don't set a date until Nick learns to control his jealousy and possessiveness. Men who have suspicious minds usually get worse, not better, after marriage. Have yourself a third thought. And a fourth. You're on the right track.

DEAR ABBY: This may sound petty to you, but it is important to me. My wife has a car of her own and nothing to do all day, but she'll call me up at work and ask me to stop on my way home and bring home a loaf of bread, or to be sure to stop at the appliance repair shop and bring home our toaster. Or even swing around to the shoe repair shop and pick up her shoes. It seems I never go right home from work. I am always stopping at the cleaners, the drug store or a dozen other places. How can I get it through her head that it is HER job to do all these things, not MINE. BUGGED

DEAR BUGGED: You can get it through her head via her ear! Either you are not telling her or she is not listening to you.

Men To Use Face Makeup, Fashion Expert Predicts

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Women's fashion personality Lilly Dache predicts that men will use makeup on their faces for the same reasons that women do — "to look better and feel better."

But the men's fashion show that demonstrated new fall styles to the visiting press did not go quite that far.

The program by the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear, sponsored by Du Pont, was a part of the New York couture group's week-long, semi-annual style preview.

Miss Dache based her prediction Wednesday on the sudden growth of the men's cologne business and on men's slowly dissolving resistance to the use of hairpieces.

But the time is not here yet. The virile gentlemen who jauntily strode the runway — some with pipes, and some with Jerry Lewis haircuts — indicated that the time is ripe, though, for at least these new wardrobe ideas:

— Knickers. Men are already wearing them on the golf course — they say — with wild socks and wild shirts and sweaters to match. Look for them on the ski slopes, made of corduroy and worn with a quilted parka.

— Fur-lined overcoats. Lightweight, rainproof cottons, equipped with plenty of pockets for currency, passports and charge cards. They are three-quarter length and racoon-lined.

— Chief petty officer's shirts.

The bridesmaids wore floor length dresses with white lace bodices and empire waists fitted to sheath skirts of deep yellow crepe. Self bows fastened the back over the Watteau panels. Their brief veils were held by Dior bows of yellow satin and they carried colonial bouquets of yellow and white carnations. The flower girl wore a floor length dress of sheer pink with a fitted bodice and self bow at the back. Garlands of embroidered white roses circled the full skirt. Her head piece was a pink bow with matching net and she carried a basket of pink rosebuds.

Mr. David Bruce Houk, Battle Creek, Mich. brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man. Gerald and Everett Snyder, Chillicothe, cousins of the bride, were ushers and lighted the tapers at the beginning of the pre-nuptial music. Michael Houk, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Christy chose for her daughter's wedding an afternoon dress of beige lace with brown and pink accessories. Mrs. Chamberlin wore an afternoon dress of pink lace with pink and white accessories. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held in the social hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. Hostesses were Miss Sonia Leatherwood, Ashville, Mrs. Connie Edgington, Circleville, Mrs. Sharon Snyder, Chillicothe, cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Nancy Musick, Grove City. For a wedding trip to Kentucky Lake and other sections of the South the bride wore a blue taffeta dress with matching bolero, white accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Otterbein College with a Master of Arts degree from Ohio State University. She is an instructor of French at Western Kentucky State College.

Mr. Chamberlin is a graduate of Western Kentucky State and received a Ph. D. degree from Duke University, Durham, N.C. He is an assistant professor of Chemistry at Western Kentucky State College.

The couple will reside in Bowling Green, Ky.

Polings Convert Swim Pool Into Neat Flower Garden

NOW A FLOWER GARDEN — The 21-foot plastic swimming pool at the Hugh Polings in Laurelville has undergone a fabulous change. Now it's a flower garden. Annuals planted in it early this spring are thriving. Petunias are four inches across. Snapdragons are tall spikes of color. Starting with the low plants bordering the "old swimmin' hole," plant varieties increase in height towards the center. In the middle is an enormous iron kettle spilling over with flowers and vines.

Does it sound like a Herculean task to convert a swimming pool into a flower garden? According to the Hugh Polings, Laurelville, it's quite possible to do it in one season.

And the garden editor will testify that it can be a most successful garden with beautifully grown annuals in every color.

June Poling gives full credit to her husband and her son, Michael. They filled in the cavity with rich barnyard soil thoroughly mixed with manure from the horse stable.

However, the task was not as formidable as it sounds. The cavity was only six inches deep. It was an above-the-ground plastic pool.

WHEN Hugh Poling finished his task he said to his wife: "If you don't get results with your flowers in this soil you won't be but of a gardener."

But the results are fabulous. The oval garden is centered with an enormous iron kettle mounted on a metal sled. It was an old rendering pot and the sled made it easy to move. The kettle is filled with red and white petunias, variegated vinca and parlor ivy. Six roses encircle the kettle, but the petunias are so bright and big one scarcely notices the roses.

The roses are ringed with stately snapdragons which have provided mountains of cut flowers. Snapdragons are deep red, pink, lavender and orange-red. Then there's a circle of red salvia blooming at their best. Then come the petunias in red, white and a variation of red and white. The marigolds are low growing and each plant a full 18-inches in diameter. The outside ring is prettiest of all and includes plants of ageratum, lobelia, allium, purple and white Joseph's coat.

The flowers are surrounded by a concrete frame, a part of the old swimmin' hole set up. At first June Poling thought that she would make the swimming pool into a rose garden. But the annuals are so colorful and provide such worlds of blossoms for cutting that she's decided to keep it a garden of annuals.

THE POLING'S patio has a low slanting roof over it. And the patio is an excellent place to relax while the flowers grow. Troubles? Yes, June Poling admits she has a few troubles. Weeds for one thing. Right now the thriving plants don't give the weeds a chance. But there for a while it was nip and tuck with the weeds.

And the Polings water regularly. Watering is something of a chore. But the annuals have

Here's Another Kraut Recipe

Let's all stand four square behind Governor James A. Rhodes who believes that if people of Ohio will just eat a mite more kraut, we'll be the top kraut producing state in the nation.

We called the Extension office for kraut recipes and Emma Lou Hartlage told us how to make kraut. This is all well and good. If you have surplus cabbages call Emma Lou. But to help Ohio commercially acquire top honors, we'll have to buy kraut.

Here is a recipe for time honored "spareribs and sauerkraut"; First take a heavy, bottomed saucepan with a tight fitting cover. Place in the bottom some sugar cured ham hocks. Then cover them with sliced onions. Place on this a layer of seasoned kraut and layer of spareribs, then kraut, and continue with layers until saucepan is filled. Add no water. Fasten lid on firmly and cook for 2½ hours.

Blueberries Are Challenge In Pickaway

Blueberries are not indigenous to the local area.

Since a few Pickaway County people are able to grow azaleas and rhododendrons, it is possible that, with care and information, blueberries can be successfully cultivated locally.

In a recent conversation with Loring Hill, however, we discovered that the blueberries we had seen on his grounds did not thrive for long. He has, in fact, had three different plantings. His attitude now is "to heck with blueberries."

Blueberries like a moist soil and plenty of water at the time of fruiting. They prefer an acid condition. Soil should contain a goodly amount of humus. An evergreen and azalea fertilizer is preferable to applications of nitrate of soda or ammonium sulfate.

A TOP dressing of oak leaves or well rotted manure is helpful, according to some authorities. Blueberries root close to the soils, so deep cultivation is harmful.

They should be grown in fall sun. And every two or three years they should be removed. But if we hear the story right, there won't be any blueberries after two or three years.

If a gardener in this locality has met the blueberry challenge with more success than Loring Hill, let us know.

We suggest that any would-be blueberry growers read instructions on blueberry growing in Abram's Green Thumb Book of Gardening. That's enough to discourage most gardeners.

According to this author, blueberries are fussy as to soil, acidity and moisture.

Shrubs Offer Beauty in Mid-Summer

It's too late now to plant shrubs for mid-summer bloom. But it is never too late for looking around and planning ahead.

The Althea or Rose of Sharon is just coming into blossom. Named varieties from reputable nurseries come in clean beautiful colors. These shrubs often attain considerable size and last for generations.

Another fine shrub is the hydrangea — an old favorite that is disease free and is a pleasing spectacle in late summer.

The hydrangea, paniculata grandiflora, is a pleasant sight as it comes into bloom in July. The flowers are borne on conical heads. Every new shoot is terminated by a panicle of star shaped blossoms, white at first, that turn into a bronzy pink.

THE OAK leafed hydrangea or hydrangea querfolia has big ornamental leaves which provide rich color in Autumn. This variety likes deep shade.

Look for these fine old shrubs and observe their beauty in your neighbor's garden. Then when planting time comes purchase them for yourself. And remember that blooming shrubs in late summer are rather few in number.

Blooming Cereus at Sabines Attracts Flower Watchers

NIGHT BLOOMING CEREUS — Here is the night blooming cereus plant that performed outstandingly when nine blossoms opened. Mrs. John Sabine, 301 E. High St., has owned the plant for 17 years. It had belonged to her grandmother, Daisy Dumm, and was given to Mrs. Sabine because she was the eldest of the granddaughters.

"What's going on up at Betty's?" This is the question neighbors of Mrs. John Sabine, 301 E. High St., were asking. Well, the truth of the matter is that plenty was going on at the Sabines.

Mrs. Sabine's night blooming cereus was coming into blossom. And, moreover, there were nine buds to bloom. According to Mrs. Sabine there would have been 10 flowers but one bud jumped the gun and blossomed Wednesday night.

Mrs. Sabine's night blooming cereus is an heirloom. She has owned it for 17 years and her grandmother, Daisy Dumm, had it for at least three years, Mrs. Sabine recalls.

When her grandmother died, Mrs. Sabine inherited the plant because she was the eldest of the granddaughters. It has bloomed before, but never in such profusion.

THE SABINES winter the cereus plant over in the basement and bring it outdoors each summer. And Mrs. Sabine admits it is something of a chore.

According to the plant's owner, it is easy to tell when the buds are about to bloom. And it is a fascinating experience to watch them open.

The flowers themselves are like a glimpse of paradise. Yes, they emit a fragrance which is delightful.

Garden Gossip

When Major M. L. Hurlbut flew in from the Philippine Islands to visit his family in Knollwood Village he announced to his wife that his anniversary gift to her was a lantern from Japan. The Major arrived Tuesday and the lantern followed Thursday.

It's a snow lantern and Elvira Hurlbut is about to make a Japanese garden at Knollwood so it will have a proper setting.

And speaking of Japanese, members of the class in Japanese flower arranging are scouring the roads for box alder. I must admit I am not familiar with this wildling.

However, the teacher, Mrs. James Jackson, will allow substitutions of wild parsnip, sprayed with insecticide so that it will have good curves, wisteria and honeysuckle.

Mrs. Kenny Ellison, Cleveland, brought her mother an interesting and beautiful container made from a cypress knee. Her mother is Mrs. Walter Hunter, Whisler. The knees grow in the swamp areas of Florida.

Loring Hill, Kingston, has a new well which provides water for his big melon patch. His melons are three inches long now, and with the big rain will no doubt be fine specimens. The Hill lilies have been beautiful, too.

Charlie Barnhart's Whisler pickle patch received the rain it needed.

Richard Jones had to take a good bit of teasing when Martha Hitler Ebenhack pointed to a little basket of tomatoes on my husband's desk that he had bought. She wanted to know what he was doing with "bought" tomatoes when his wife gave advice to everybody on how to raise everything. All Dick could do was blush. Alas, we have no tomatoes. Worse yet we have no vegetable garden.

Mrs. Buck Petty has a snake plant that is about to bloom. Yes, snake plants do bloom sometimes, but it's a rare occasion. Hers is 3-years-old.

The Pickaway Garden Club has received verification from Carlton Lees, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, that he will address the group on July 12, 1966.

The garden editor is in a tizzy of excitement over this. Lees held a similar position of Kingwood Center, Mansfield. While there he had a workshop for homeowners. He called in the "Budget Landscape" class.

We frequently think of Carlton Lees because we heard him say one time that orchid and orange made an eye-catching color combination. At the time we thought this sounded like a pretty goofy color team. Our lythrum, an orchid, is planted along side our butterfly weed. We have come to regard this as a stunning and beautiful combination. At one time we were planning on moving one of the plants.

The Gene Hansons planted sweetpeas May 22 and are reaping a beautiful harvest of flowers. Gene planted them near the screened porch. The vines climb up the screening and fasten their tendrils into it. Pauline Hanson says the sweetpeas are deliciously fragrant. The Hansons have their meals on this porch.

This proves that sweetpeas can be planted later than St. Patrick's Day and make it.

Skip Hanson and his bride are expected this week. Just hope the sweetpeas will last until their arrival.

Incidentally, the seeds come from Arizona where Pauline's father has great luck with sweetpeas. The Hanson's watered the vines quite regularly.

The garden page copy was late getting to The Herald this week. Blame it on Seth Oliver Jones. He's my new grandson down the road who arrived home Friday. He slept through the big rain and wind storm Friday afternoon.

Polings Convert Swim Pool Into Neat Flower Garden

NOW A FLOWER GARDEN — The 21-foot plastic swimming pool at the Hugh Polings in Laurelville has undergone a fabulous change. Now it's a flower garden. Annuals planted in it early this spring are thriving. Petunias are four inches across. Snapdragons are tall spikes of color. Starting with the low plants bordering the "old swimmin' hole," plant varieties increase in height towards the center. In the middle is an enormous iron kettle spilling over with flowers and vines.

Does it sound like a Herculean task to convert a swimming pool into a flower garden? According to the Hugh Polings, Laurelville, it's quite possible to do it in one season.

And the garden editor will testify that it can be a most successful garden with beautifully grown annuals in every color.

June Poling gives full credit to her husband and her son, Michael. They filled in the cavity with rich barnyard soil thoroughly mixed with manure from the horse stable.

However, the task was not as formidable as it sounds. The cavity was only six inches deep. It was an above-the-ground plastic pool.

WHEN Hugh Poling finished his task he said to his wife: "If you don't get results with your flowers in this soil you won't be much of a gardener."

But the results are fabulous. The oval garden is centered with an enormous iron kettle mounted on a metal sled. It was an old rendering pot and the sled made it easy to move. The kettle is filled with red and white petunias, variegated vinca and parlor ivy. Six roses encircle the kettle, but the petunias are so bright and big one scarcely notices the roses.

The roses are ringed with stately snapdragons which have provided mountains of cut flowers. Snapdragons are deep red, pink, lavender and orange-rust. Then there's a circle of red salvia blooming at their best. Then come the petunias in red, white and a variation of red and white. The marigolds are low growing and each plant a full 18-inches in diameter. The outside ring is prettiest of all and includes plants of ageratum, lobelia, alysium, purple and white Joseph's coat.

The flowers are surrounded by a concrete frame, a part of the old swimmin' hole set up. At first June Poling thought that she would make the swimming pool into a rose garden. But the annuals are so colorful and provide such worlds of blossoms for cutting that she's decided to keep it a garden of annuals.

MRS. POLING, something of a rose fancier, has about 25 roses of many different varieties. She's been interested for some 10 years or so.

But the roses are not quite as much fun as the annuals have been. Last week at the Methodist WSCS she was responsible for eight bouquets. And the swimming pool flower bed seemed as full of blossom as ever after she had picked them.

We asked Mrs. Poling if the flower garden were exclusively hers. She gave her husband and Michael credit for providing the good soil. But actually they like horses more than flowers, although Hugh always comments on the beauty of the flowers when she makes an arrangement for the house.

So really, in a sense, it is June Poling's exclusive project — one that had been a genuine pleasure, as well as a good bit of work.

Birch Should Be Considered In Your Landscape Plans

Experts have yet to agree on the perfect tree. One may be too tall. Another have too dense a shade. Another tree, beautiful in form, may have litterbug habits — a tendency to shed leaves and bark.

Some trees are only suitable in large gardens. Others may overshadow your home in their ultimate growth.

But whether your garden is large or small, if you are looking for an interesting tree, consider the birch.

Any one of the 10 native birch species and their horticultural varieties can be used effectively in a landscape plan. Their delicate, flexible branches match the interest offered by any tree, but the showy bark is beyond compare.

BARK COLORS can range from chalk white through shades of orange to black. Most homeowners, though, prefer those with the lighter bark.

The canoe or paper birch has the lightest bark — actually chalky white — and dark green leaves. It is perhaps the most showy of our birches.

The European White Birch has drooping branches and a white bark that peels easily. Still another interesting species is the yellow birch which has a frayed bark, silvery without but in orange shades when it peels.

Don't be dismayed if you purchase a young plant and it does not have the characteristic bark. All young birches have dark-colored bark and take on the lighter color as they mature.

The birch is a tree that can be planted almost anywhere in the garden. It can be a background for shrubs and flowers; one with several trunks (or several planted as a group) makes an excellent accent plant or specimen tree.

Consider the winter appeal of the plant when choosing a setting. You want it where you will be able to see the dancing white trunks and branches through the bleak winter. Also check to be sure that the attractive bark will not blend into your background and be lost from view.

THE ONE major insect pest of the birch is the leaf miner. The larval (worm) stage of this insect lives inside the leaf where it feeds. As it tunnels its way about inside, it causes blotches and blisters to appear on the outside. Infested leaves turn brown in late Spring or early Summer.

However, the control of this pest is simple enough now. Spray at 10-day intervals during late spring with Spectracide. This will control the adult "sawflies" as they emerge from the leaf and prevent them from laying eggs for another brood.

This relatively new spray contains Diazinon, a substance that is effective in controlling more than 120 insects.

Ohio School Aid Measure Put in Shape

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A long-awaited bill boosting state support for public education to a record $624 million reached the Ohio House floor today after weeks of laborious committee hearings.

House members also were set to vote on a Senate-passed measure tightening Ohio's strip mine laws and requiring operators to restore landscapes marred by coal removal.

These measures were placed on the calendar Wednesday after the lower chamber voted to create new state universities at Akron, Toledo, and Dayton but disagreed over what to call the Dayton school.

After a spirited floor fight, the House decided to name the Dayton branch of Ohio State University the Southwestern Ohio University. Sponsors objected strenuously to the change from Wright Brothers University called for in the bill.

Municipal universities in Toledo and Akron, like the Dayton institution, would assume state status July 1, 1967 under the bills approved previously by the Senate.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a new capital improvements bill as the pace toward final adjournment continued to quicken. It appropriates $280 million of the $290 million bond issue approved by voters in the May primary.

In other developments, the House Elections and Federal Relations Committee recommended passage of a strengthened "fair housing" bill, clearing the way for a possible floor vote later this week.

The House reconsidered and passed two bills it rejected earlier, including one to add common pleas judgeships in Medina, Summit, Hamilton, and Cuyahoga counties.

The other measure would direct the state to determine ownership of all state — claimed lands in dispute. Rep. John C. McDonald, D-Licking, opposed the measure on grounds it would require property owners to travel to Columbus at their own expense for hearing of cases.

Ten bills were approved in the Senate at a routine session virtually free of controversy. Among them was a proposal to permit the creation by counties or groups of counties of regional transit authorities to meet mass transportation problems of the future.

Swim Pool Chlorine Makes 70 Persons ill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — About 70 persons, most of them children, were sent to hospitals Wednesday when they became sick from an excessive amount of chlorine fed accidentally into one section of a new municipal swimming pool.

None of the cases was serious, officials at three hospitals reported, but about 20 children were kept overnight for observation.

Police said when Keogh's car struck the pole three months ago, it only cracked the pole at the base. But this week, they said, he knocked it down. Keogh was not seriously hurt in either crash, police said.

Young Autoist Hits Power Pole 2 Times

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson — Civilized, gentle, and articulate — was the ideal politician to a lot of people but, unfortunately for him, never to enough people.

And he appeared at the wrong time and against the wrong man.

He truly represented something too seldom seen in American political life — the thinker — when he ran against Dwight D. Eisenhower and lost the presidency to him twice.

The 1952 race wasn't a time for thinking.

It was an emotional time. The country was tormented over the Korean War and split to its roots by McCarthyism with all that it meant in bewilderment, suspicion and revulsion.

What Stevenson offered, with his profound and often painfully polished language, was a self-examination of the American conscience at a moment when Americans apparently felt they needed something else.

That something else was a return to tranquility, of cohesion instead of division, and of proven strength in leadership to eliminate misgivings. Eisenhower symbolized all those needs.

Stevenson, governor of Illinois, was almost unknown.

Eisenhower, proven commander and national hero, could be expected to restore sanity even if he had to knock heads together. And he was a friendly man who could be trusted not to engender new antagonisms.

But Eisenhower probably could have beaten Stevenson under any circumstances, as he proved by winning again in 1956. Against someone else Stevenson might have done better.

Yet, while Stevenson seemed a little in awe of Eisenhower in the first campaign, and minced a bit, in 1956 he was rougher on Eisenhower than John F. Kennedy was on Richard M. Nixon in 1960.

And in 1956 he did worse than in 1952.

Stevenson was a hero to liberals, intellectuals, college youth and faculties because he had a perspective on history, compassion for mankind, lucidity in language and a reasoning mind. But it is questionable he would ever have been a good president.

He had all the instincts of the lamb while all the first-line presidents at one time or another had to show the teeth of a tiger.

Nothing showed better the lack of aggressiveness than that night in Chicago in 1952 when, after getting the Democratic nomination, he made his acceptance speech.

Where another candidate would have responded with vigor and fire to the challenge handed him, Stevenson made himself appear a reluctant martyr.

He said "I have asked the merciful Father of us all to let this cup pass from me." But, since it did not pass, he said he would drink it.

Here he was both indecisive and self-conscious, qualities which often appeared later. For example, he was indecisive when President-elect Kennedy in 1961 offered him the job as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

And in writing his campaign speeches he was extremely indecisive and self-conscious, endlessly changing and rearranging as if wanting to make sure his literary hat would be on straight in the mirror of history.

All this affected him adversely in the kind of public attention his thoughts got for it slowed down and scrambled the transmission of speeches to newspapers around the country.

This, in turn, showed a poor sense of organization. His campaigns were not well-organized.

But, despite these defects, he remained in American life a shining figure until he died, without malice, a man of good will, kindness and infinite concern for the people of his own country and the world.

He was a gentleman and a gentle man.

Birch Should Be Considered In Your Landscape Plans

Experts have yet to agree on the perfect tree. One may be too tall. Another too dense a shade. Another tree, beautiful in form, may have litterbug habits — a tendency to shed leaves and bark.

Some trees are only suitable in large gardens. Others may overshadow your home in their ultimate growth.

But whether your garden is large or small, if you are looking for an interesting tree, consider the birch.

Any one of the 10 native birch species and their horticultural varieties can be used effectively in a landscape plan. Their delicate, flexible branches match the interest offered by any tree, but the showy bark is beyond compare.

BARK COLORS can range from chalk white through

How Weather Looks Today

CENTRAL OHIO — Fair and cooler tonight, low 54. Friday sunny and pleasant, high 83.

NORTHWEST, NORTHEAST, Clear and cooler tonight, low 50-55. Sunny and mild Friday.

SOUTHWEST OHIO — Fair and cooler tonight, low 53-58. Friday sunny and pleasant.

SOUTHEAST OHIO — Fair and cooler tonight, low 53-57. Friday sunny and pleasant, high 83-85.

Forgotten Dentures Are Taken by Thieves

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. John Tana told police they were on their way to Norfolk, Va., recently when Mrs. Tana remembered she had left her false teeth at home.

Tana drove back home where they discovered thieves had stolen two watches, a ring and Mrs. Tana's false teeth.

shades of orange to black. Most homeowners, though, prefer those with the lighter bark.

The canoe or paper birch has the lightest bark — actually chalky white — and dark green leaves. It is perhaps the most showy of our birches.

The European White Birch has drooping branches and a white bark that peels easily. Still another interesting species is the yellow birch which has a frayed bark, silvery without but in orange shades when it peels.

Don't be dismayed if you purchase a young plant and it does not have the characteristic bark. All young birches have dark-colored bark and take on the lighter color as they mature.

The birch is a tree that can be planted almost anywhere in the garden. It can be a background for shrubs and flowers; one with several trunks (or several planted as a group) makes an excellent accent plant or specimen tree.

Consider the winter appeal of the plant when choosing a setting. You want it where you will be able to see the dancing white trunks and branches through the bleak winter. Also check to be sure that the attractive bark will not blend into your background and be lost from view.

THE ONE major insect pest of the birch is the leaf miner. The larval (worm) stage of this insect lives inside the leaf where it feeds. As it tunnels its way about inside, it causes blotches and blisters to appear on the outside. Infested leaves turn brown in late Spring or early Summer.

However, the control of this pest is simple enough now. Spray at 10-day intervals during late spring with Spectracide. This will control the adult "sawflies" as they emerge from the leaf and prevent them from laying eggs for another brood.

This relatively new spray contains Diazinon, a substance that is effective in controlling more than 120 insects.

Ohio School Aid Measure Put in Shape

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A long-awaited bill boosting state support for public education to a record $624 million reached the Ohio House floor today after weeks of laborious committee hearings.

House members also were set to vote on a Senate-passed measure tightening Ohio's strip mine laws and requiring operators to restore landscapes marred by coal removal.

These measures were placed on the calendar Wednesday after the lower chamber voted to create new state universities at Akron, Toledo, and Dayton but disagreed over what to call the Dayton school.

After a spirited floor fight, the House decided to name the Dayton branch of Ohio State University the Southwestern Ohio University. Sponsors objected strenuously to the change from Wright Brothers University called for in the bill.

Short Honeymoon Sweet

CHICAGO (AP) — The honeymoon is much sweeter when short, says a wedding consultant, and short honeymoons are better for a marriage too.

"The most surprising thing is that many times a couple gets bored with each other on a long honeymoon," consultant Louis Seno said in an interview.

"The shorter the honeymoon, the better. Two weeks is the most I'd advise," he said.

Seno, a wedding consultant 20 years, said the anxiety and excitement leading to the wedding puts a couple on their best behavior.

"Then suddenly they're married. They think they know each other, but then they start spending 24 hours a day together and discover they don't."

"In a strange resort, surrounded by strangers, the discovery that Prince Charming snores or has a few minor faults can be devastating."

"The newly married couple obligates each other to constant entertainment. They see little or nothing connected with their home life."

Seno, 41 and father of four, said a short honeymoon gives the couple a chance to be alone, and that the return home means the real beginning of happiness.

"At home, even though it's a brand new apartment, a bride can take things in stride," Seno said. "The man gets up and goes to work, and the wife has a chance to relax, do her daily chores and dismiss the little frailties of her husband."

Seno said the most susceptible persons to a soured honeymoon are women who have lived with their parents and have made few trips.

"The more the homebody, the more they look forward to a trip — and stretch it too long," he said. "Many women end up getting homesick. As a result impatience and misunderstanding develop."

DEER CREEK ENGINEER — Thomas Chapman, a civilian employee of the United States Army Corps of Engineers, is project engineer for the Deer Creek Reservoir. He is shown here in front of an old brick dwelling that is being converted into project office.

Deer Creek Lake Project Is Started

Work on the Deer Creek reservoir has started.

Thomas Chapman, a civilian project engineer for the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, has established an office in an old brick farmhouse overlooking the dam site.

Chapman reported that initial survey and engineering work is under way. "Heavy earthmoving equipment should start to roll shortly," he said.

The project is scheduled to be completed in November of 1967.

THE PROJECT contract was awarded recently to the Penker Construction Co. of Cincinnati. The construction firm's bid for the project was $8,968,876.

The first move in the project will be rerouting the creek around the dam site.

Although Deer Creek below the site will probably contain excessive amounts of sediment during the actual work required to reroute the stream bed, engineers feel that it will not be a problem.

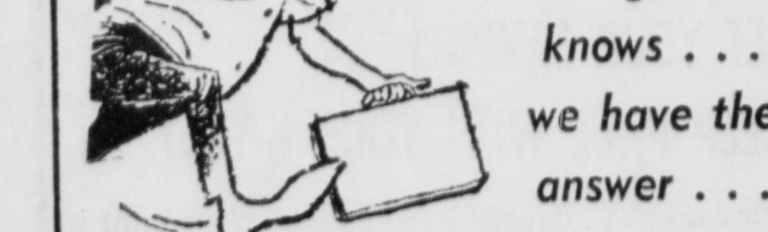

After the stream is rerouted, no excessive sediment should appear in the stream except during periods of rainfall.

The dam will be 3,880 feet long and 93-feet high.

The concrete spillway will be approximately 180 feet long. It calls for an estimated 165,000 yards of concrete.

When completed, there will be a recreation lake of 727 acres, all within Pickaway County, according to present plans announced by the Corps of Engineers.

Falconry is the oldest field sport of which there is any record. It is believed that falconry was known in China approximately 4,000 years ago.

'Best Actor' Predicts His Style Losing Favor

NEW YORK (AP)—Although Terence Stamp recently was named "best actor" at the Cannes Film Festival for his performance in "The Collector," he predicts that his type — "slightly uncouth Englishman" — will soon go out of style.

"It's a trend that started in England with the mass education of the working classes," said Stamp, 25, fingering his collection of stringy dark hair.

"But," he says cheerfully, "the fashion is going to change. I have a feeling it's going to give me up."

Stamp, however, is pretty blasé about trends, claiming that commercial popularity isn't his goal anyway. He's an actor, he says, simply because he enjoys it. "Before I was an actor, I didn't like life."

Right now, Stamp is looking forward to his next movie, "Modesty Blaise." Kind of a knockabout thriller comedy," he says. "It'll be a giggle to do."

Short Honeymoon Sweet

CHICAGO (AP) — The honeymoon is much sweeter when short, says a wedding consultant, and short honeymoons are better for a marriage too.

"The most surprising thing is that many times a couple gets bored with each other on a long honeymoon," consultant Louis Seno said in an interview.

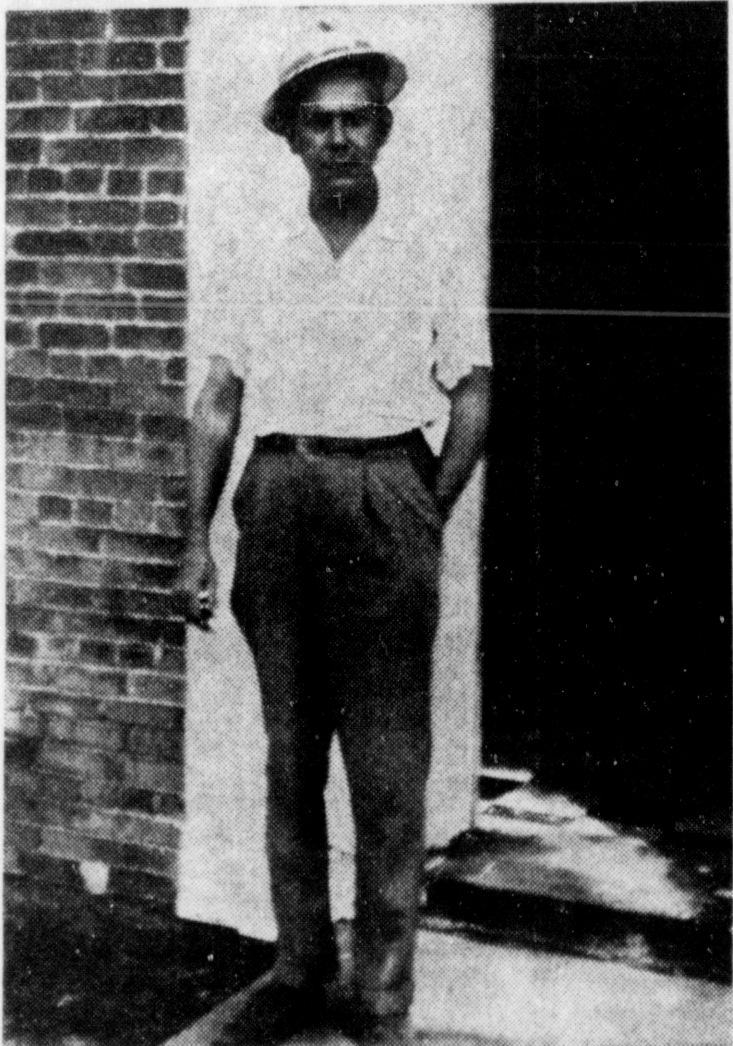

"The shorter the honeymoon, the better. Two weeks is the most I'd advise," he said.

Seno, a wedding consultant 20 years, said the anxiety and excitement leading to the wedding puts a couple on their best behavior.

"Then suddenly they're married. They think they know each other, but then they start spending 24 hours a day together and discover they don't."

"In a strange resort, surrounded by strangers, the discovery that Prince Charming snores or has a few minor faults can be devastating."

"The newly married couple obligates each other to constant

DEER CREEK ENGINEER — Thomas Chapman, a civilian employee of the United States Army Corps of Engineers, is project engineer for the Deer Creek Reservoir. He is shown here in front of an old brick dwelling that is being converted into project office.

Deer Creek Lake Project Is Started

Work on the Deer Creek reservoir has started.

Thomas Chapman, a civilian project engineer for the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, has established an office in an old brick farmhouse overlooking the dam site.

PRE-BIRTH TRANSFUSION — Mrs. Paul Tomlinson of Salem, N.Y., holds her 10-day-old daughter Kathi Lynn, who is a healthy baby after apparently being doomed to be stillborn. She was an "RH baby," but doctors at Albany Medical Center gave her a blood transfusion before she was born, an operation performed successfully only a few times.

Chapman reported that initial survey and engineering work is under way. "Heavy earthmoving equipment should start to roll shortly," he said.

The project is scheduled to be completed in November of 1967.

THE PROJECT contract was awarded recently to the Penker Construction Co. of Cincinnati. The construction firm's bid for the project was $8,968,876.

The first move in the project will be rerouting the creek around the dam site.

Although Deer Creek below the site will probably contain excessive amounts of sediment during the actual work required to reroute the stream bed, engineers feel that it will not be a problem.

After the stream is rerouted, no excessive sediment should appear in the stream except during periods of rainfall.

The dam will be 3,880 feet long and 93-feet high.

The concrete spillway will be approximately 180 feet long. It calls for an estimated 165,000 yards of concrete.

When completed, there will be a recreation lake of 727 acres, all within Pickaway County, according to present plans announced by the Corps of Engineers.

Falconry is the oldest field sport of which there is any record. It is believed that falconry was known in China approximately 4,000 years ago.

entertainment. They see little or nothing connected with their home life."

Seno, 41 and father of four, said a short honeymoon gives the couple a chance to be alone, and that the return home means the real beginning of happiness.

"At home, even though it's a brand new apartment, a bride can take things in stride," Seno said. "The man gets up and goes to work, and the wife has a chance to relax, do her daily chores and dismiss the little frailties of her husband."

Seno said the most susceptible persons to a soured honeymoon are women who have lived with their parents and have made few trips.

"The more the homebody, the more they look forward to a trip — and stretch it too long," he said. "Many women end up getting homesick. As a result impatience and misunderstanding develop."

Scouts Hold Honor Court

Circleville Troop 205, Boy Scouts of America, held its summer court of honors this week at the Presbyterian Church.

Scouts who have advanced in the troop since the last court were honored. Parents and friends participated in the meeting which was led by George Robinson, scoutmaster.

Receiving tenderfoot pins and badges were Bob Coleman, Bob Grincewich, Mike Chelickovsky and Jim O'Brien. Second class rank went to David Mogan, Ken Dean, Brad Lindsay, Dennis Shaw and Charles Whitfield.

Mike Vaughn was honored for his outdoor activities in the area of camping by receiving his first class pin. He also received a pin for one year of active service in Boy Scouts.

The next major activity for Troop 205 is the summer camp at Camp Lazarus. Scouts will leave Circleville at 12:30 p. m. Sunday and return after six days at the camp.

At camp they will learn additional outdoor crafts such as boating, rifle marksmanship and archery which will enable them to progress to their goal of Eagle Scout. Six boys from the troop plan to attend.

'Best Actor' Predicts His Style Losing Favor

NEW YORK (AP)—Although Terence Stamp recently was named "best actor" at the Cannes Film Festival for his performance in "The Collector," he predicts that his type — "slightly uncouth Englishman" — will soon go out of style.

"It's a trend that started in England with the mass education of the working classes," said Stamp, 25, fingering his collection of stringy dark hair.

"But," he says cheerfully, "the fashion is going to change. I have a feeling it's going to give me up."

Stamp, however, is pretty blasé about trends, claiming that commercial popularity isn't his goal anyway. He's an actor, he says, simply because he enjoys it. "Before I was an actor, I didn't like life."

A native of the Stepney slum district of London, Stamp dabbled in several fields before becoming an actor. At 15, he began working evenings as an assistant golf pro. Two years later, he enrolled in art school only to decide after a few months that his work "wasn't very good." So he switched to advertising, first as a messenger and file clerk and later as a typographer.

Once-Great Warren Spahn Is Out Looking for Job

NEW YORK (AP) — Warren Spahn was looking for a job today after 74-year-old Casey Stengel decided the 44-year-old left-hander was taking up valuable space in the New York Mets' youth movement.

Spahn, who came to the Mets last November after starring for 20 years with the Braves first in Boston and later in Milwaukee, had lost eight straight and was 4-12 with a 4.43 earned run average when the Mets asked waivers on him Wednesday.

"I know I can still help a big league club," Spahn said Wednesday night. "Physically I feel fine and my arm feels strong. I'll take an oath on it. There isn't any reason why I can't pitch creditably for any club in the big leagues."

Stengel, who will be 75 next week, told Spahn several days

Aussie Track Star Cracks 2 Records

OSLO (AP) — Ron Clarke's brother had a unique birthday gift today after the Australian track star smashed two more world records in the opening day of a two-day international meet here.

Clarke became the first runner to crack the 28-minute barrier for 10,000 meters Wednesday and wiped out pending world marks for that distance — about 6 1/2 miles — and six miles in a fantastic race.

The Aussie star clocked an amazing 26:47 for six miles and 27:39.4 for the 10,000 over the fast Bislet Stadium track. That knocked a whopping 24.6 seconds off the pending mark for six miles and 34.6 seconds off the pending time for 10,000.

"I told you beforehand that I would set a new world record didn't I?" Clarke said to newsmen after the spectacular race.

He called the two records "a birthday present for my football playing brother Jack, who is in Melbourne."

Clarke, who only last week had cracked the 13-minute barrier for three miles with a 12:52.4, raced against Jim Hogan of Ireland and Claus Boersen of Denmark but it was the Aussie's show all the way.

South African Finishes Second In Paris Again

PARIS (AP) — At least Cobie Legrange is consistent.

Legrange, the South African golfer, finished second in the French Open golf tournament for the second straight year Wednesday, this time losing by a stroke to Ramon Sota of Spain.

Sota fired a 70 in the morning round and finished with a 67 in the afternoon for a 268 four-round total. Legrange matched Sota's final two rounds over the 6,684-yard par-73 Saint Nom-La-Brette course and finished with 269.

Ten golfers shot scores below 290 for the four rounds in the last two U. S. Opens.

Browns Linebacker Battle Shapes Up

Battling the veterans for the linebacking jobs are Tom Goosby, of Baldwin - Wallace, John Briscoe of Arizona and Dale Lindsey of Western Kentucky.

Atlanta Suffers Another Shutout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Shutouts appear to have become an unpleasant way of life for the sagging Atlanta Crackers.

Toledo shut out the Crackers on three hits Wednesday night for the second night in a row and extended Atlanta's latest scoreless streak to 18 innings. Atlanta, which led the International League during most of the early season, only recently broke a record 42-inning scoreless string.

The loss kept the Crackers 3 games behind league-leading Columbus, which lost to Jacksonville 5-4. In other games, Syracuse defeated Toronto 5-1 and Rochester sent Buffalo to its 70th defeat of the year 7-6.

Once-Great Warren Spahn Is Out Looking for Job

NEW YORK (AP) — Warren Spahn was looking for a job to do after 74-year-old Casey Stengel decided the 44-year-old left-hander was taking up valuable space in the New York Mets' youth movement.

Spahn, who came to the Mets last November after starting for 20 years with the Braves first in Boston and later in Milwaukee, had lost eight straight and was 4-12 with a 4.43 earned run average when the Mets asked waivers on him Wednesday.

"I know I can still help a big league club," Spahn said Wednesday night. "Physically I feel fine and my arm feels strong. I'll take an oath on it. There isn't any reason why I can't pitch creditably for any club in the big leagues."

Stengel, who will be 75 next week, told Spahn several days ago that he no longer would be considered a regular starting pitcher. "We want to give the younger men on our roster an opportunity in the youth development program," Stengel said.

Spahn, who has won 369 games and is tied for sixth place on the all-time list with Kid Nichols, offered to become a relief pitcher. "I'm willing to go to the bullpen," he told Stengel. "If I can work my way back to starting." But the offer was rejected.

Spahn, who doubled as pitching coach, received $73,500 for his dual role. The Mets first placed his name on the regular waiver list where a claim would cost $20,000. When there were no takers, at that price, he was put up for a nominal $1 fee, for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release. That makes him free to make a deal for himself.

"This was not a move born of economy," Met General Manager George Weiss said. "We purchased him from Milwaukee knowing his salary. We thought he would help our club."

Spahn did help for awhile. He won two of his first three starts, beating Los Angeles and San Francisco. Then he lost a 1-0 game to Philadelphia when opposing pitcher Jim Bunning hit a home run for the only run of the game. The Dodgers beat him twice by 2-1 scores, once behind Sandy Koufax and once with Don Drysdale.

The veteran hurler's last victory came against Philadelphia May 24 but he has dropped eight of 10 starts since then.

Fastest Round Of Golf Course Brings $14 Fine

LONDON (AP) — Russell Tarry-Smith, fined five pounds ($14) for making the fastest round in the history of The Bournemouth Golf Club, said today that he plans to appeal.

In court Wednesday prosecutors said he drove off from the first tee, neatly avoided the bunker and went straight on to the green.

He drove into the sandtraps on the third, fifth, seventh and ninth but on the 10th he hit the pin.

The trouble was — he did it by car.

And the club charged he caused damage totalling 50 pounds ($140) and the course had to be closed for two weeks for repair.

Tarry-Smith, son of a former club captain, denied making the drive. But Scotland Yard scientists said paint from the pin matched exactly with traces of paint found on his car.

Top-Rated Ohio Trotter Dies

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Argo Kid, a trotter who was a contender for the $50,000 Harness Tracks of America (HTA) race July 23 at Liberty Bell Park, died here Wednesday.

The cause of death was not immediately determined, but a track spokesman said the horse may have died from a twisted intestine.

Argo Kid, owned by Charlie King, Hamilton, Ohio, had won a preliminary leg in the HTA series. He had earned $92,000 so far this year, finishing first in nine of 15 starts and defeating Speedy Scot, considered harness racing's top trotter.

Browns Linebacker Battle Shapes Up

HIRMA, Ohio (AP)—A battle for linebacker seems to be shaping up here at the Cleveland Browns' training camp as 10 men go after only five or six openings in that position.

Veterans returning at those positions are Galen Fiss, Vince Costello, Jim Houston, Stan Szurek, Mike Lucci and Ed Bettridge.

Battling the veterans for the linebacking jobs are Tom Goosby, of Baldwin - Wallace, John Briscoe of Arizona and Dale Lindsey of Western Kentucky.

3rd National Grabs Lead in Pony League

Bankers Earn 12-5 Decision over Kochheiser Hardware

Third National grabbed a half-game lead over VFW and the Savings Bank by dumping Kochheiser Hardware, 12-5, last night in the Pony League.

The Bankers now own a 6-3 seasonal record while the Vets and the Savings Bank hold five wins in eight starts. Kochheiser has one win in nine starts.

Chris MacKenzie hurled for the Bankers and gathered the win. He struck out five and scattered seven hits.

Steve Thomas was charged with the loss for Kochheiser. He fanned six and was bombed for 13 bingles.

FAUSNAUGH blasted a homer and a pair of doubles to lead the Bankers' list of power hitters. Richard Schlegler and MacKenzie added two sacks to the Bankers' cause.

Randy Martin blasted a homer for Kochheiser and Mike Rhodes and Thomas tagged two baggers.

Aussie Track Star Cracks 2 Records

OSLO (AP) — Ron Clarke's brother had a unique birthday gift today after the Australian track star smashed two more world records in the opening day of a two-day international meet here.

Clarke became the first runner to crack the 28-minute barrier for 10,000 meters Wednesday and wiped out pending world marks for that distance — about 6½ miles — and six miles in a fantastic race.

The Aussie star clocked an amazing 26:47 for six miles and 27:39.4 for the 10,000 over the fast Bistol Stadium track. That knocked a whopping 24.6 seconds off the pending mark for six miles and 34.6 seconds off the pending time for 10,000.

"I told you beforehand that I would set a new world record didn't I?" Clarke said to newsmen after the spectacular race.

He called the two records "a birthday present for my football playing brother Jack, who is in Melbourne."

Clarke, who only last week had cracked the 13-minute barrier for three miles with a 12:52.4, raced against Jim Hogan of Ireland and Claus Boersen of Denmark but it was the Aussie's show all the way.

South African Finishes Second In Paris Again

PARIS (AP) — At least Cobe Legrange is consistent. Legrange, the South African golfer, finished second in the French Open golf tournament for the second straight year Wednesday, this time losing by a stroke to Ramon Sota of Spain.

Sota fired a 70 in the morning round and finished with a 67 in the afternoon for a 268 four-round total. Legrange matched Sota's final two rounds over the 6,684-yard par-73 Saint-Nom-Ladre course and finished with 269.

Ten golfers shot scores below 290 for the four rounds in the last two U. S. Opens.

ANKROM was the winning pitcher. He was credited with three doubles and a single. Hawkes belted two doubles.

Reggie Radcliff was the losing pitcher.

Last night he repeated his performance, hooking a 19-pounder on his spinning rod. Bensonhaver, shown here with his son, Toren, uses softcrabs for bait and an 8-pound test line.

The Little League Minors yesterday played one of its busiest schedules of the season.

Rotary downed Blue Ribbon Dairy, 4-3, on the main diamond at Ted Lewis Park, Second National won its first by upsetting the Jaycees, 13-5, at the Little League diamond in Ted Lewis Park and Third National stopped the Savings Bank, 14-10, as they battled at the Little League diamond in the Fairgrounds.

Randy Young hurled for Rotary and collected the win. He walked five, fanned six and scattered three hits.

Dana Carley suffered the mound loss for the Dairymen. He issued one walk, struck out four and was touched for 12 bingles.

Richard Metcalf started for Second National and was awarded the win. He was relieved by Kirk Brown who turned in a fine relief job.

R. N. Phillips absorbed the pitching loss for the Jaycees. He was helped by Gary Mogan.

Metcalf led the Bankers' seven hit attack as he bashed a three - sacker. Joe Reeser and Larry McFarland followed with doubles.

James Routt managed the only Jaycees extra base bingle, a double.

Art Foll started for Third National and went three frames, picking up the win. He was helped by Alan Hawks and Jeff Arledge.

Mosquito League Action Features Two Close Tilts

The Lumbermen needed seven innings to hand the Knights their second defeat of the year.

The loss for the Hawks moves them back into a dead-lock with the Elks for second spot with identical 6-5 slates. Bingmans still holds the lead with eight wins in 10 starts.

2 Local Drivers Win Races at Scioto Downs

Emmett Ebenhack, Wayne Twp. harness horse trainer and driver appeared in the winner's circle twice last night at Scioto Downs. Ralph Strous of Salt Creek Twp. topped one race.

Strous reined Melody Lady to a win in the fifth race, pacing the mile in 2:05.

In the third race, Scotty Hanover trotted the mile in 2:07 1-5 with Ebenhack in the sulky.

Ebenhack returned in the ninth race with Success Creed. Starting from the No. 2 post position, he went to the front early and finished three lengths ahead to win in 2:05 1-5.

Atlanta Suffers Another Shutout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Shutouts appear to have become an unpleasant way of life for the sagging Atlanta Crackers.

Toledo shut out the Crackers on three hits Wednesday night for the second night in a row and extended Atlanta's latest scoreless streak to 18 innings. Atlanta, which led the International League during most of the early season, only recently broke a record 42-inning scoreless string.

The loss kept the Crackers 3 games behind league-leading Columbus, which lost to Jacksonville 5-4. In other games, Syracuse defeated Toronto 5-1 and Rochester sent Buffalo to its 70th defeat of the year 7-6.

Chisox Bullpen Artist Keeps Team Afloat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Eddie Fisher, whose flutterball has been keeping Al Lopez' White Sox afloat, is sailing along toward the winningest season ever for a relief pitcher.

The Chicago bullpen artist reached the midpoint of what could be the first 20-victory season for a nonstarter Wednesday night as the White Sox passed the halfway mark in their season with a 12-10, 12-inning decision over the sagging Cleveland Indians.

Fisher gave up a game-tying ninth-inning homer pinch hitter to Fred Whitfield, the first man he faced, before earning his 10th victory with three strong innings.

The knuckleball specialist thus tied 10-game winners Whitey Ford of New York and Hank Aguirre of Detroit for the American League lead and moved within six of Dick Radatz' league record for relief victories in one year.

Radatz, the Boston Red Sox fireman, won 16 games, all in relief, last season. Pittsburgh's El Roy Face set the major league mark in 1959 when he won 18 of 19 relief decisions.

The White Sox, outthrewed 5-2 in the marathon slugfest at Cleveland, scored three unearned runs in the 12th after an error by shortstop Dick Howser and handed the Indians their sixth straight setback.

In the only other action in the majors, Chicago and Milwaukee divided a National League doubleheader, the Braves winning the second game 6-3 despite a Chicago triple play after the Cubs had taken the opener 5-2.

Fisher, who has appeared in 46 of his club's 82 games and won one more game than the White Sox starters have finished, yielded a second run in the 12th after Chicago's decisive rally. The two runs off Fisher, who has lost three, ballooned his earned run average to 1.38.

Don Buford, who reached second base when Howser dropped his pop fly with one out in the 12th, scored the go-ahead run on a two-out double by reserve catcher Jim Schaffer. Al Weis then singled across two more runs.

Smoky Burgess' 105th career pinch hit, a two-run single in the White Sox' three-run ninth, left him two short of the all-time pinch-hit record held by Red Lucas, who played for three NL clubs from 1923-38.

Chico Salmon, with a pair, Rocky Colavito and Pedro Gonzalez hit the other Cleveland homers. Ron Hansen and starting pitcher Gary Peters connected for the White Sox.

The Cubs pulled the third triple play of the year — the New York Mets and San Francisco Giants recorded the others — in the second inning of the nightcap at Chicago before two homers by Gene Oliver and Hank Fischer's five-hit pitching pulled the Braves from behind.

Mack Jones and Rico Carty were on first and third, respectively, when Ed Bailey grabbed Woody Woodward's foul pop, touching off the zany triple-killing.

Jones faked a move toward second and Bailey fired to shortstop Don Kessinger, whose return throw to pitcher Bill Faus, covering the plate, retired Carty. Jones, breaking for second again, was out. Paul to second baseman Glenn Beckert.

Ron Santo knocked in two Chicago runs in the opener and Bob Buhl picked up his ninth victory with late-inning help from Ted Abernathy, who matched Fisher with his 46th relief appearance.

The St. John's University basketball team of New York next season will make its first trip to the west coast in 13 years. The Redmen will play in the Los Angeles Classic beginning Dec. 27.

Views on Television — Radio

By CHUCK CONNORS
(For Cynthia Lowry)
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When the first rumors leaked out last May that I was about to begin a new half-hour Western called "Branded," and in midseason to boot (normally the kiss of death for TV shows), most of my friends in show business said, "Chuck, don't do it. You changed your image in 'Arrest & Trial' — don't change it back to a cowboy, you've gotten by that hurdle."

My reaction was to pick up the nearest pen and sign the "Branded" contract. The reason? After five years of "Rifleman" and one year of "Arrest & Trial" I felt I was in the best position to decide what image I wanted, and I'll take the cowboy every time.

Besides being the only true symbol of American male virility, the cowboy is dear to the hearts of the mass American public. And I care a darn sight more for the public's approval than I do for the approval of the party sophisticates of my own profession.

I remember when the "Branded" project became public, I was almost trapped into believing "Arrest & Trial" was very large for me. Lots of show business people liked it. However, analysis showed that the mass audience was lukewarm.

Result: "Arrest & Trial" was canceled. Ten months later, "Branded" was in the top ten of the Nielsen ratings.

"Arrest & Trial" concerned itself with stories about other people. Ben Gazzara and I were the peripheral characters. "Branded" centers solely on the problems of Jason McCord. That's the way the viewers like it.

"Arrest & Trial" was on a backbreaking, overlapping nine-day shooting schedule "Branded" is on a relaxed schedule, each segment is filmed in three days. We can easily finish a season's schedule of thirty-two shows in seven months and have five months left to play golf and enjoy life.

I guess it all adds up to my liking the cowboy image immensely. That particular image did pretty well for John Wayne and Gary Cooper.

Chisox Bullpen Artist Keeps Team Afloat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Eddie Fisher, whose flutterball has been keeping Al Lopez' White Sox afloat, is sailing along toward the winningest season ever for a relief pitcher.

The Chicago bullpen artist reached the midpoint of what could be the first 20-victory season for a nonstarter Wednesday night as the White Sox passed the halfway mark in their season with a 12-10, 12-inning decision over the sagging Cleveland Indians.

Fisher gave up a game-tying ninth-inning homer pinch hit to Fred Whitfield, the first man he faced, before earning his 10th victory with three strong innings.

The knuckleball specialist thus tied 10-game winners Whitey Ford of New York and Hank Aguirre of Detroit for the American League lead and moved within six of Dick Radatz' league record for relief victories in one year.

Radatz, the Boston Red Sox fireman, won 16 games, all in relief, last season. Pittsburgh's El Roy Face set the major league mark in 1959 when he won 18 of 19 relief decisions.

The White Sox, outscored 5-2 in the marathon slugfest at Cleveland, scored three unearned runs in the 12th after an error by shortstop Dick Howser and handed the Indians their sixth straight setback.

In the only other action in the majors, Chicago and Milwaukee divided a National League doubleheader, the Braves winning the second game 6-3 despite a Chicago triple play after the Cubs had taken the opener 5-2.

Fisher, who has appeared in 46 of his club's 82 games and won one more game than the White Sox starters have finished, yielded a second run in the 12th after Chicago's decisive rally. The two runs off Fisher, who has lost three, ballooned his earned run average to 1.38.

Don Buford, who reached second base when Howser dropped his pop fly with one out in the 12th, scored the go-ahead run on a two-out double by reserve catcher Jim Schaffer. Al Weis then singled across two more runs.

Smoky Burgess' 105th career pinch hit, a two-run single in the White Sox' three-run ninth, left him two short of the all-time pinch-hit record held by Red Lucas, who played for three NL clubs from 1923-38.

Chico Salmon, with a pair, Rocky Colavito and Pedro Gonzalez hit the other Cleveland homers. Ron Hansen and starting pitcher Gary Peters connected for the White Sox.

The Cubs pulled the third triple play of the year — the New York Mets and San Francisco Giants recorded the others — in the second inning of the nightcap at Chicago before two homers by Gene Oliver and Hank Fischer's five-hit pitching pulled the Braves from behind.

Mack Jones and Rico Carty were on first and third, respectively, when Ed Bailey grabbed Woody Woodward's foul pop, touching off the zany triple-killing.

Jones faked a move toward second and Bailey fired to shortstop Don Kessinger, whose return throw to pitcher Bill Faus, covering the plate, retired Carty. Jones, breaking for second again, was out, Faus to second baseman Glenn Beckert.

Ron Santo knocked in two Chicago runs in the opener and Bob Buhl picked up his ninth victory with late-inning help from Ted Abernathy, who matched Fisher with his 46th relief appearance.

The St. John's University basketball team of New York next season will make its first trip to the west coast in 13 years. The Redmen will play in the Los Angeles Classic beginning Dec. 27.

By CHUCK CONNORS
(For Cynthia Lowry)
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When the first rumors leaked out last May that I was about to begin a new half-hour Western called "Branded," and in midseason to boot (normally the kiss of death for TV shows), most of my friends in show business said, "Chuck, don't do it. You changed your image in 'Arrest & Trial' — don't change it back to a cowboy, you've gotten by that hurdle."

My reaction was to pick up the nearest pen and sign the "Branded" contract. The reason? After five years of "Riflemen" and one year of "Arrest & Trial" I felt I was in the best position to decide what image I wanted, and I'll take the cowboy every time.

Besides being the only true symbol of American male virility, the cowboy is dear to the hearts of the mass American public. And I care a darn sight more for the public's approval than I do for the approval of the party sophisticates of my own profession.

I remember when the "Branded" project became public, I was almost trapped into believing "Arrest & Trial" was very large for me. Lots of show business people liked it. However, analysis showed that the mass audience was lukewarm.

Result: "Arrest & Trial" was canceled. Ten months later, "Branded" was in the top ten of the Nielsen ratings. "Arrest & Trial" concerned itself with stories about other people. Ben Gazzara and I were the peripheral characters. "Branded" centers solely on the problems of Jason McCord.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Thursday, July 15, the 196th day of 1965. There are 169 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1779, Brig. Gen. Anthony Wayne — "Mad Anthony" — led a desperate night attack on Stony Point, N.Y. The fortified British key to the important crossing of the Hudson River. Wayne's three columns stormed the high, rocky point and by next morning it was theirs.

On this date
In 1788, Gov. Arthur Sinclair arrived at Marietta, Ohio, to inaugurate civil government in the Northwest Territory.

Mont Blanc Tunnel Opening Is Awaited

COURMAYEUR, Italy (AP) — Under Europe's highest mountain, the presidents of Italy and France will join Friday in opening the monumental Mont Blanc auto tunnel — an event likely to give European unity efforts at least a symbolic boost.

From the time work first started on the tunnel in 1959, it was hailed as a new link in the European unity cause revived after World War II.

The tunnel is opening at a time when President Charles de Gaulle's France is in bitter dispute with its Common Market partners and the unity movement is stalemated.

De Gaulle himself is joining in the opening with President Giuseppe Saragat, Italy's first Socialist president and a man with his own strong ideas about European unity. Those ideas have not always been accepted by De Gaulle.

But here in the Alps, even if they do not agree on the politics of European unity, they will together open an artery that could pump new life into the idea. The tunnel could boost tourism and commerce not only in France and Italy but in the countries beyond.

The Mont Blanc auto tunnel is Western Europe's newest transportation miracle — a relatively short link to cut time and distance, opening a new way to speed freight and travelers past

Columbus Man Feared Lost in Lake Erie

PUT-IN-BAY, Ohio (AP)—The Coast Guard was to resume a search today for a man believed from Columbus who may have drowned off South Bass Island. The Coast Guard said all it knew so far was that a man with the last name of Lucas reportedly disappeared while swimming Wednesday.

the Alpine barrier between Italy and France.

The two-lane 7.2-mile tunnel road bypasses 60 miles and several hours of travel over the hairpin mountain road. This means swifter, cheaper truck transport between France and northern Italy.

It means easier access — and thus a lure — for the tourist seeking a more comfortable route through the Alps.

Thirteen workmen — eight Italians and five Frenchmen — were killed and scores injured in the six years it took to build the tunnel 11,400 feet below the snow-covered peak of the 15,772-foot mountain.

At each end of the tunnel, connecting Chamoni, France with Courmayeur, are powerful ventilating stations to provide fresh air.

Traffic moving 30 to 40 miles an hour over the 24-foot wide roadway, will pass through the tunnel in just a little more than 10 minutes.

The tunnel is the second for automobiles under the Alps. The Great St. Bernard Tunnel was opened last year on the Italian-Swiss border.
